Communication

The Union and Finning have concluded 3 days of bargaining July 13-16.

Your Bargaining Committee has tried to get the company to agree to benefit improvements and increased job security language. This has been met with resistance and the company pressing for their continuous shift language.

We are trying to work with the company to get the improvements that your proposals advised were important to you

We will be reconvening with the company July 28-30, updates will be posted following these negotiations.

As a reminder to everyone that the collective agreement remains in full effect during the bargaining process.

Should you have any questions, we invite you to contact your Union Representative or a member of your bargaining committee.

Stay tuned for further information.

In Solidarity,
Your Bargaining Committee.
